

Together for the Love of Creation Earth Week 2025

Let's make hope visible in 100 events across the country.

The gifts of Creation are bountiful, from the thousands of animals with whom we share our land, to the water which sustains our lives. But the warming of the planet caused by greenhouse gas emissions poses a grave threat to its harmony. Climbing temperatures and extreme weather events continue to damage our communities. Deep, bold, and daring action must be taken. Let's act together during Earth Week, April 20-27, 2025.

—Moderator the Right Rev. Dr. Carmen Lansdowne

During Earth Week 2025, The United Church of Canada is joining with numerous denominations and faith-based organizations under one banner, Together for the Love of Creation

Communities of faith, networks, and regions are invited to initiate and participate in climate justice events during the week of April 20–27 to pray, learn, and act for the love of Creation.

This is a tremendous opportunity for the church to lift up and strengthen the ways that we are putting our house in order by reducing our carbon footprint; raising our spirited voices through advocacy efforts; connecting with the earth; responding to climate impacts; and challenging ourselves to be deep, bold, and daring.

Last year, over 90 communities participated in For the Love of Creation week, praying and connecting with the Earth, learning and sharing knowledge, and acting for climate justice. With your partnership, let's make headlines with 100 events to mark our 100th year!

Together for the Love of Creation

On Earth Day in 2020, faith groups and faith-based organizations in Canada came together to launch For the Love of Creation. This national initiative, of which The United Church of Canada is an active member, is a unified banner to mobilize education, reflection, action, and advocacy for climate justice. It is faith-based and theologically grounded, and centres Indigenous self-determination and youth empowerment.

Working together through the For the Love of Creation enables effective ecumenical collaboration at the local and national levels for The United Church of Canada.

The United Church of Canada's climate effort has local, regional, national, and global expressions in the areas of Putting Our House in Order, Raising Our Spirited Voices, Connecting with the Earth, and Responding to Climate Impacts.
